Q What are the go-to colours for cool nails this season?

LISA SAYS In a word: brights. Nail guru Andrea Fulerton is launching nail bars nationwide, offering anything from full-on glitter to neon. Or for a helping hand at home, try Nail Rock Designer

Nail Wraps, £6.50. Place on the nail, set using a hairdryer and then file down to size. I opted for the gold animal-print ones on Friday night, which easily peeled off on Sunday in time for work on Monday.

Q Can you suggest a good DIY facial?

JESS SAYS Maggie Brown, a renowned facial acupuncturist, gave me a good tip. Add a few drops of Beauté Chinoise Facial Oil, £30 (beautechinoise.co.uk) to fingertips. Dab evenly on to your neck and face, then massage in with gentle, upward sweeping movements. Apply more pressure from the chin, working up and across the cheeks with firm, circular movements. Smooth over brows and out over your forehead.

Jess gets Frédéric's hair secrets

PRO TIP For the brightest, shiniest hair colour, invest in a clarifying shampoo to remove product build-up - it works wonders! FREDERIC FEKKAI

Q My hair is looking limp, how do I give it a volume injection?

SUSANNA SAYS I love Diva Stay Hot Rollers, £29.99. The big ones are just the thing for a volume boost at the roots and they work well on thick hair too. The ionic technology means they stay hot for ages after you put them in, so it's just a case of pulling them out on your way out the door. If you're after a quick fix, Pantene Sheer Volume Hairspray, £3.29, works wonders on limp hair. Flip your head upside down, spray it into your roots and give it a quick ruffle. It gives you another inch in height easily - amazing for big hair on a night out.

Q I'd love an uplifting scent for spring. What's new?

CASSIE SAYS As a Marc Jacobs Daisy fan, I got excited

when the new Daisy Eau So Fresh EDT, £48, landed on my desk. The fragrance is a sunny version of the original with fruity floral notes. Or, for something a little different, there are new Jo Malone Limited Edition Tea Fragrance Blends. Mix your chosen tea fragrance, such as Earl Grey and Cucumber, £34, with Sweet Lemon, £34, to freshen it up or Sweet Milk, £34, to comfort - just as you would your cuppa. It's given teatime a whole new meaning!
